SUMMARY OF INFORMATION

Site is a large, blocky, drab structure. Front has plate glass windows which are protected with metal. Inside are long, high rows of containers/packages. The back of the structure has large doors which open to an area reminiscent of a loading dock. The structure is very much like a warehouse, except the purpose is selling not storage: reminiscent of a wholesale establishment of some sort. Outside the structure, a man in work clothes is pulling a cart, which he is about to unload. Some of what is sold here has a strong chemical smell. Note sketches.
